Ransomware Security Incident at Leschaco on August 21, 2021

Dear Valued Customer / Business Partner,

we herewith inform you that part of our IT system has been attacked and infected by a ransomware. We are aware of this incident since the morning hours of Saturday, August 21.

We took immediate action by forming a task force together with our service providers to ensure the ransomware cannot spread further. Our teams have worked under high pressure to contain the virus and are now preparing our systems for a safe and speedy recovery. As a security precaution, our operational systems are currently down. We are working towards restoring our systems in the course of Tuesday, August 24. In the meantime, the handling of operational processes will be adjusted.

We are confident that this incident will not cause major service disruptions of Leschaco. At the same time, we cannot completely rule out delays in service or that sensitive data has been compromised. Our analysis is ongoing, and we will keep you informed about any findings along the way.

Our communication platforms and channels are not affected by this incident. You can reach your contact person at Leschaco via e-mail and phone. If you seek real-time information about the incident, please visit our website or subscribe to our twitter account. Of course, we will keep you informed also via our Leschaco advisories.

Please be assured that Leschaco is doing everything possible to ensure this incident will not affect your business.
